WEDNESDAY, April 24, 2019
1:30pm - 3:00 PM ET

EVERYONE Earns 3 AAHAM CEUs for attending

Join AAHAM and Scott Overholt, Chief Development Officer, Vyne Medical, as we present this timely webinar,

“The Path to Ending Faxing in Healthcare”

This webinar will present options for health systems to eliminate faxing and move toward the electronic exchange of health information between providers, payers, patients and more. While fax has traditionally been viewed as a secure method for data exchange, it presents security risks when faxes are lost, misdirected or delivered to unauthorized recipients. Manual processes involved with faxing are also time consuming and cost prohibitive.

This webinar will review current options to capture disparate data (patient scheduling, insurance, clinical and financial information) and integrate it to the patient record for enterprise access and exchange. The presentation will reference outcomes from health systems in paper elimination, improved care coordination, time and cost savings.

Learn specifics on:

- Reviewing multi-phased approaches to eliminating faxing
- Discussing utilization of electronic faxing (inbound and outbound) to eliminate paper
- Analyzing implementation of cloud faxing to eliminate hardware/fax machines
- Evaluating integration with EHRs and practice management systems to automate information exchange
- Considering utilization of direct message, secure email and other forms of secure information exchange

Space is limited to the first 100 registrants, register today!

Level of webinar: Intermediate

Target audience: Patient financial services and access personnel, executive and clinical leadership
